There Was Nothing So Good for Congestion and Colds
as Mustard

But the old-fashioned mustard-plaster burned and blistered while it acted. Get the help that mustard plasters gave, without the plaster and without the blister.

Musterole does it. It is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It is scientifically prepared, so that it works wonders, yet does not blister the tender skin.

Just massage Musterole in with the finger-tips gently. See how quickly it brings relief—how speedily the pain disappears.

Use Musterole for sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest.

A New Frock Certainly Means a New L. R. Corset

This in-between season when one can pick up easily an inexpensive dance frock or afternoon dress is a good time also to try the merits of an L. R. Corset.

L. R. Corsets are not expensive—$1 to $12.50 is the range of prices—but they are made especially for the Wanamaker Store by a well known American corset manufacturer. Many of our French styles suggest the lines of these L. R. Corsets, and while they are extremely comfortable, yet they are possessed of decided chic.

L. R. Corsets are specialized to a great degree.

There are special models for dancing, $3.50.

There are Perfect Fitting Corsets for the housewife, $3.

There are L. R. Corsets for young women and older women.

There are nearly fifty different styles.

The May Manton Fashions

ONE of the new heavy silk suits this costume, and it is exceedingly handsome with the trimming of broadcloth or velvet with a wide band. The design is a very simple one, each line representing a single stitch. It is easy to do, it fills up rapidly and if the colors are well chosen it gives a very smart effect. Broadcloth or silk always is handy, some, but you could make it of broadcloth or of serge or of velours or any reasonable suiting material. Velours would be handsome with trimming of chiffon velvet, or broadcloth would be pretty with embroidery worked on the material. The skirt is in six gores, but the side gores are circular in shape, while the front and back form panels. The coat is a very simple and an eminently smart one and will be charming for the coming season as well as for the present. Women who are preparing for the South will find the model a charming one for white serge or for white broadcloth or for the suit of silk. White broadcloth and white serge are exceedingly handsome with trimming of heavy ribbed silk or of satin. If you like the sports effect, you could make the skirt of white wool jersey cloth and the coat of silk jersey in some bright color, gold color or coral or green, and make the collar and belt to match the skirt.

For the medium size the coat will require 4 1/2 yards of material 36 inches wide, 3 1/2 yards of 44 or 46 inch material, 3 1/2 yards 54 inches wide for the trimming. For the skirt will be needed 10 1/2 yards 36 or 44, 2 1/2 yards 54 inches wide.

The coat pattern, No. 9322, is cut in sizes 34 to 42 inches bust measure and the skirt pattern, No. 9319, is cut in sizes from 26 to 36 inch waist measure. Price, 15 cents for each.

That Riverside Drive must be held free for future Terminal Markets, and that any transfer of the Riverside Drive front to the railroad should include such possibilities, is strongly urged for the consideration of the Housewives' Protective Association by Mrs. Flora Spiegelberg, a member of the Advisory Board of the New York Terminal Commission.

Mrs. Spiegelberg spent a considerable time in Europe in the study of market facilities, and believes that the future of terminal markets for the city will be difficult, if not impossible, unless provision is properly made for them in the forthcoming Riverside contracts with the New York Central Railroad.

She advocates Zone Terminal Market facilities, saying:

"The zone terminal facilities for municipal markets will eliminate the present waste of nearly 25,000,000 pounds of food yearly which is condemned by the Health Department because shipping only certain quantities to each terminal would prevent a glut in the market. Besides, large quantities of perishables can be disposed of in the congested districts. Thus by eliminating overhead charges, cold storage, many handlers, loss of time and money for trucking, the high cost of living can be permanently reduced, and equally so, the traffic congestion in the streets and at the piers, where the buyers often wait for hours in all kinds of weather."

"Besides this, I am heartily in accord with all efforts that are being made to preserve Riverside Drive as a park, not only for our city, but it should be considered a national park on account of the beautiful river front facing the historic Hudson River, and for that reason the present agreement with the New York Central MUST BE PREVENTED."

"No doubt the railroad officials are well aware of the far greater terminal facilities that are to accrue to them from the ownership of this vast river front, with its valuable, limitless privileges, which apparently seem to be entirely overlooked by the tax and rent payers. It is for that reason that I am urging the importance of including in whatever agreement that is to be made with the New York Central NOW zone terminal facilities along the entire river front and modern piers for shipping and at these zone terminals or near them."

"Here is an incident that proves the necessity. When the President recently visited our city he landed at the Seventy-ninth Street Pier, Riverside Drive, which is decorated with ash and garbage dumps, generally four to six stories filled with rotting garbage and others heaped up high with ash and waste materials, and he was obliged to drive among these dust laden carts."

"Now that our city has or will be divided into zones for building purposes, the time is ripe to lay out along both sides of Manhattan, the Bronx and Brooklyn the most advantageous terminal facilities for all the railroads or barge canals. Besides a marginal way or road wide enough for four wagons, should be a continuous route along the water front for the heavy trucking; then at the point of destination the trucks could turn east or west and thus much of the traffic congestion at present would be cut out on the main avenues."

"But this step must be taken now, right away, for these zone terminals are absolutely necessary and should be demanded before any terms are concluded with the New York Central or any other railroad coming into the city. These zone terminals are of vital importance to the great arteries of traffic in our city, and by bringing in the freight, whether it be foodstuffs to be consumed in that zone, or dry goods to be manufactured in that zone, or building materials to be used in that particular zone, it will permanently reduce the overhead charges, greatly lessen the number of times it is handled, likewise the congestion in the streets and at the piers at present."

"In other words, with proper zone terminal facilities freight of all kinds can be shipped directly from the producer to the consumer, and thus permanently reduce the cost of handling food, dry goods, building materials. For instance, food intended for Zone Terminal 1, Manhattan, should be shipped directly there by the producer; building materials for that section should come directly from the factory or foundry; dry goods likewise directly from the mills to the manufacturing plants in that particular zone."

Kindly note this double advantage. The finished articles could then be re-shipped to their final destination by motor truck, just as they had been called for at the zone terminal, only thirty minutes away. Since our city has planned just such manufacturing zones, therefore these terminals are absolutely necessary and now MUST be included in all plans, for the rapid growth of the city demands it."

DENTIST IS INDICTED ON YOUNG GIRL'S CHARGE

Dr. Frederick B. Askins Accused of Luring Young Woman From White Plains.

Dr. Frederick B. Askins, a dentist with offices at No. 2143 Seventh Avenue, was indicted on a charge of having lured Dorothy Hunt, a seventeen-year-old girl from White Plains.

According to Assistant District Attorney Owen Bohan, Askins met Miss Hunt at a New Year's party given by a White Plains Firemen's Association. He was introduced as a wealthy dentist of New York. She accepted his invitation to go to a moving picture show.

After the show, according to her story, she accompanied Askins to a restaurant. She drank the absinthe frappe because she had no idea that they were intoxicating. The drinks stupefied her and the last she remembered was getting into a taxicab with him.

She woke up the next afternoon in a room in an uptown hotel. Askins, she declares, was in the room. He gave her a dollar and told her to go home. She told her father of the occurrence. Three physicians made an examination which resulted in the criminal charge against the dentist.

Askins is married. An attorney who represents him telephoned the District Attorney's office that the dentist would surrender himself.

$100,000 FOR A MUSEUM GIVEN ZOOLOGICAL SOCIETY

The report of Madison Grant, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the New York Zoological Society, made last night at its twenty-third annual meeting at the Waldorf-Astoria, revealed that $100,000 had been subscribed for the erection of a museum to contain the institution's collections of heads and horns, said to be the finest in the world.

Dr. Hornaday, Director of the Bronx Zoo, was given credit for getting the money. The museum, which would be erected on the east side of Grand Central, plans for which are being drawn.

The new fund said to have been made up by the following, who contributed $10,000 each:

Mrs. Russell Sage, Mrs. F. F. Thompson, John D. Archbold, Jacob H. Schiff, George F. Baker, Louise W. Carnegie, Andrew Carnegie, Edmund C. Converse, "A. Friend" and Samuel Thorpe, in memoriam.

STRAND ROOF RAID BARES CITY-WIDE CRUSADE ON VICE

Committee of Twelve, Headed by Mrs. Brown, Fights to Close Illegal Resorts.

A city-wide campaign against vice resorts, undertaken by the Committee of Twelve, of which Mrs. William Grant Brown is chairman, with the co-operation of seven other vice-fighting and women-protecting agencies, was divulged to-day, following raids and arrests on the Strand Roof Garden and in negro dives in Harlem.

District Attorney Swann is working with the committee and the associated societies, sending representatives to corroborate reports of the private detectives employed by the committee.

Until yesterday there had been no activity by the police, although Robert W. Hebbard, executive secretary of the committee, said to-day he had forwarded to the Police Commissioner every complaint on which the society had acted and from time to time comments on the continued depravity of the resorts mentioned in the previous complaints.

For a month or more evidence has been gathered regarding the places raided last night and a score of others. As a result, evidence similar to that which caused the indictment of employees of the establishment of "Baron" Wilkins and William Connors, negro resort keepers of Harlem, and the Strand Roof has been collected against the employees of many dance halls, saloons, cabarets and fifty low grade hotels in all parts of the city.

The sure closing of these places temporarily, until the present activity of the vice hunters dies out, will not save those who have been under the observation of investigators. Mr. Hebbard said to-day: "They must go out of business and stay out of business and leave the city to escape prosecution. The organization must be maintained in a permanent watch on both the men who have been commercializing vice and the resorts, too."

"We have criticism to make of any public officials or any branch of the city government," said Mr. Hebbard. "We have made no effort to find and expose violations, though we have noted them when found, in various places as an added means of closing those places; we are not hunting police grafters, if there are any still in the Police Department."

York a safer and cleaner city for young people to grow up in.

"Dec. 4 last we received a complaint from a woman who said her husband had been induced to a permanent watch on both the men who have been commercializing vice and the resorts, too."

"Since then I have sent six letters calling the attention of the Commissioner to reports of our findings. But he has no information as to what action was taken, if any."

MENTIONED STRAND ROOF IN LETTER TO POLICE HEAD.

"The first complaint regarding the Strand Roof was received about a week ago. I am not sure whether I sent our first report upon that place to the Commissioner, but I am certain I mentioned it in a letter. What we found at the Strand was of such a nature that we decided on immediate action."

"The indictment of the head waiter and four young women turned over to our agents by him on our evidence was immediate. The Assistant Attorney acted at once on all the evidence supplied by us; he took only such time as was necessary for investigations from his office to verify our findings. Mr. Hebbard's investigators have already looked up and verified many other reports of our men."

The hotels became involved when we found that while Broadway reports which many innocent young persons frequent were the meeting places of vicious persons with their own ends in view, the hotels could be recruited to the vicious ranks, the women made a regular practice of taking men to these hotels, presumably receiving a commission.

"It has recently been stated that the arrests are more clear of vice than they have been. Our observation is that this is true. We find a falling off in street vice and in the old-fashioned type of immoral resorts. But, little credit is due to the community if the temptations of the street and semi-secret resort have been transferred to the public restaurants and dance halls, to which the public is admitted for a small fee."

NINETEEN RAID PRISONERS TO HAVE HEARING TO-MORROW.

The evidence against the negro resorts showed considerable caution was used in transferring the particular parties from the open resorts to apartments in the neighborhood maintained by persons in the confidence of the proprietors.

The nineteen prisoners taken in last night's raids were all in the Tombs to-day. A small army of their friends and lawyers, white and black, crowded the corridors of the District Attorney's office seeking to get them out.

They will be arraigned to-morrow with two other persons under indictment for carrying on a gambling racket. Attorney James E. Smith stood ready to go before Judge Mulqueen and insist that those charged with misdemeanor be held in not less than $2,500 bail, and those charged with felonies in not less than $5,000.

keep the tone of the place up to their heads, it is said, and by last May they withdrew from any connection with the resort.

Conditions continued to grow worse to such an extent that agents of the Committee of Twelve, strangers to the place, said they had no trouble in procuring girls on application to the head waiter—two on the first visit and on the second four—for a fee of $10 each, though the detectives swear the head waiter demanded $20 each.

There was a conference yesterday afternoon between representatives of the Committee of Twelve, the Committee of Fourteen, the New York Social Hygiene Society, the Society for the Prevention of Crime, the Society for the Suppression of Vice, the New York Probation and Protection Association and the Widowed Mothers' Pension Commission, at which preliminary arrangements were made, on motion of Canon William S. Chase, for a public conference on vice conditions to awaken parents and all uninitiated citizens to the evils existing under very slight disguise.

COURT RULES AGAINST MORE RENT STRIKERS

"Move if Dissatisfied," Decision in One Case—Verbal Agreement Held Invalid in Another.

The fact that an apartment house tenant has no legal rights which a landlord is bound to respect was again emphasized to-day when Justice Scanlan rendered a decision on two landlord-tenant cases in the Second District Municipal Court in the Bronx.

These cases were brought in the interest of the tenants who went on strike when their rent was raised. One was that of Mrs. Slatkoff of No. 748 Trinity Avenue. She refused to pay an increase in rent because the landlord had not lived up to his agreement to supply sufficient heat and hot water. The Court ruled that if she was not satisfied with the heat and hot water supply the only remedy was to move.

The case of Samuel Abrams of No. 611 Concourse Avenue, based on a verbal agreement he said he made with the landlord that his rent would not exceed $22 a month for one year. The Court ruled that the landlord was not bound, anyhow.

These decisions put the finishing touches on the Bronx "rent strike."

Seven Saved From Sinking Schooner.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10.—The captain and six men composing the crew of the British schooner Ewart Harris were landed here to-day from the British steamer Keltic, which was towed to the pier by the tugboat "Harris" after the vessel about 700 miles east of Newfoundland on New Year's Day. The Harris was abandoned, rudely and leaking badly. She was bound from Cadix, Spain, to St. Johns, N. F., with a cargo of salt.
